

John Hagelin

Scientist and Visionary

Leading the world's greatest democracy is an enormous responsibility, not a task for mere politicians, who are masters of fundraising, courting influence, and mouthing sound-bites crafted by spin doctors. Effective leadership for the 21st century requires enlisting the most innovative thinkers.

John Hagelin, Ph.D., is a world-renowned, Harvard-trained physicist, educator, and leading public policy expert. He is the recipient of the prestigious Kilby Award, which recognized him as a "scientist in the tradition of Einstein, Jeans, Bohr and Eddington." Discover magazine predicted that experimental proof of his Grand Unified Field Theory could win Dr. Hagelin and his colleagues the Nobel Prize for Physics.

Dr. Hagelin's interest in science extends beyond mere discovery. For him the ultimate value of understanding natural law—how the universe works—is in its practical application to improve society. He founded the Institute of Science, Technology and Public Policy, which identifies and promotes proven, innovative, cost-effective solutions to America's most critical problems, and has worked closely with Congress for two decades to implement these commonsense solutions in every area of society.

A REASON TO VOTE

- ✓ Ending special interest control of our politics by eliminating PACs and soft money, establishing public sponsorship of election campaigns, and prohibiting lobbying by former public servants.
- ✓ Ensuring a strong economy through powerful pro-growth tax and fiscal policies, and through proven education, job training, and apprenticeship programs that will ensure a highly qualified and productive work force.
- ✓ Cutting taxes deeply and responsibly by reducing government waste, fraud, and the national debt, and by implementing cost-effective solutions to costly social problems, while protecting crucial programs such as Social Security and Medicare.
- ✓ Creating a true health care system—instead of our current disease care system, bought and paid for by special interests—by supporting prevention-oriented health care, proven to prevent disease and save money by keeping people healthy.
- ✓ Creating energy self-sufficiency by ending our costly addiction to foreign oil and developing renewable, safe, nonpolluting energy resources such as wind and solar—saving billions of dollars in health and environmental costs.
- ✓ Strengthening education by promoting proven innovations drawn from America's most successful public and private schools, and increasing teacher's salaries to make teaching a more honorable profession.
- ✓ Promoting more harmonious international relations by shifting our meddlesome and invasive foreign policy away from the export of weapons towards the export of U.S. know-how in entrepreneurship, education, environmental, and agricultural technologies.

Anything's Possible.

Leading Entrepreneur

Nat Goldhaber is a highly successful entrepreneur who brings to the presidential ticket 20 years' experience in Silicon Valley. He recently retired as President and CEO of Cybergold, Inc., an online, direct mail Internet company that he recently sold to a publicly traded company, MyPoints.

Nat Goldhaber

Mr. Goldhaber previously served as the founding CEO of Kaleida Labs, the multinational joint venture between IBM and Apple. He also founded the company that developed TOPS, the first IBM/Macintosh local area network later sold to Sun Microsystems.

Prior to starting his career in high tech, Mr. Goldhaber served as Special Assistant to Pennsylvania's Lieutenant Governor William W. Scranton III, where he ran the State Energy Agency as its Interim Director.

Mr. Goldhaber, 52, holds a master's degree in education and is currently a member of the Executive Board of the University of California at Berkeley. He lives in Oakland, California, with his wife of 26 years, Marilyn, and their three boys.

1.877.hagelin

www.hagelin.org

HAGELIN
Goldhaber

PAID FOR BY THE HAGELIN/GOLDHABER CAMPAIGN

HAGELIN
Goldhaber

PRESIDENTIAL TICKET
NATURAL LAW/
INDEPENDENT PARTY COALITION

John Hagelin
Nat Goldhaber
1.877.Hagelin (424.3546)
www.hagelin.org

P.O. Box 1900, Fairfield, IA 52556